Stavanger

Here is an ordinary cancellation from Stavanger just after 1900.

In 1897, the regular ferry service by Otto Wathne; Copenhagen-West Norway-Iceland began with "SS Egil". In the following sailing, plan for "Herr O. Wathnes Steamship "Egil"" - the route where Copenhagen, Stavanger, Bergen, Thorshavn, Klaksvig Berufjord - and then local traffic in Iceland and returning through the same cities. Here is only the downwards part shown:

Fartplan for Herr O. Wathnes Dampskib "Egil".

København, Norge, Færøerne og Island. 1897.

Therefore – we are looking for cancellation in Stavanger around:

------	------	-----	------	-------	-------

Otto Wathne dies in 1898 aboard the "SS Vaagen" and is buried in Seydisfjord, - he considers to be the father of the city. There is a memorial for him in the city. The company continued under the name of O. Wathne's Arvinger.

From 1 July 1898, the shipping company had a contract for postal services from Norway to the Faroe Islands and Iceland and return. At least 10 postal travel rounds per year. The contracts from Iceland is more uncertain – it might be just for domestic mail. It must be investigated further.

From the schedule 1898 we are looking for cancellation in Stavanger in 1898 around:

Therefore – we are looking for cancellation in Stavanger in 1899 around:

Vaagen	28.3	25.5
Egil	17.4		9.7	19.8	2.10	15.11	20.12

From the latest trip that year:

5 aur postal stationery with additional 5 aur dull green of 1898 sent to England via Norway with crown canc. "ÞÓRSHÖFN" in violet. Transit canc. "VOPNAFJÖRÐUR 5.12", "SEYÐISFJÖRÐUR 15.12" and "STAVANGER 22.XII.99".

But - there is competition from Thore.

There must be examples from 1899 as Thore E. Tulenius began his route via Stavanger, but only with one stop 5 August. The schedule from 1899 were:

* It did not went per schedule. "SS Otto Wathne" was lost at Siglunes already on June 6 1906, but "SS Prospero", 678 BRT, which was built in 1870, replaced her. It went from Copenhagen, June 29, 1906.

I have no examples! Strange!

"SS Egil" and "SS Prospero":

In 1907, SS Eljan were added to the Wathne fleet. As shown in the following timetable for the poststeamship link between Norway Faroe Islands and Iceland, it sails Kristiania. Kristianssund, Stavanger, Haugesund, Bergen, Ålesund, Kristianssund, Tronhjem, Thorshavn Seydisfjord and around Reykjavik - and same way home. It a supplement to the traffic with "SS Prospero" and "SS Egil".

"SS Eljan" (named before SS Theodor Burchard") was 794 BRT and build in1883. She purchased in 1907 by Otto Wathne's Arvinger (Tønnes Wathne), Stavanger and renamed at the time of purchase.
